repeated failures that attempts at revulution only make their condition worse. The Sardinians have felt themselves too weak to undertake the conquest on the atreogth of its alleged settlement of stion of the right of visit. We showed unlourish on the strength of its alleged settlement of he question of the right of visit. We showed unthe quotion of the right answeraldy at the time not only from the reason of the case but from the express declarations of the fatuation, instead of cultivating the affections and British Cabinet that the question remained precisely and respectfully, your obsident servant, B. I. TOTTEN, Com in the Commander H. M. M. steamer Viper To this note the commander of the Viper promp y and frankly replied as follows:

ST PAUL DE LORNDO, H. B. M. Steamer Viper., Sanday, Oct. 28, 1866. Third.—If the American flag was still flying when the teles wer pered. Americ.—The American flag was a flying when the vessel shatches were opened. The flag dipapers were thrown into the sea by the tiaptain, with there had been a recent rumer that the King of Sar-dinia had threatened, if abandoned by Frince in the manders, and the American officer was finally reation; but the point in which we recall the attention of the public is resultished by the portion of copy of a letter in which this resolution was made Commander Hodkinton's reply which we have italidized. The direct and necessary inference from his Napolcon was handed about in the diplomatic solicits clead. The direct and necessary inference from his statement is that his instructions were on just cause of ampricion to visit vessels bearing the American fig or any other. Such, indeed, were the instructions which the Ministry openly avowed last aumount, as we proved by citations from the debates in Parliament. Now that they have been acted upon and ascerted in so nnequivocal a manner by an offi cer of He Mayesty's acrives on one of the principal sist in creating sympathy with Prediment and help interesting the such as the property of the Mayesty's acrives on one of the principal sist in creating sympathy with Prediment and help interesting the such as the property of the such as the propert cer of Her Mayesty's service on one of the princips naval stations of the globe there can of course he no further room for quibbling. The bubble of reputaeffected by the fabrication of such a disci up out of the right of visit question has been pierced ous as its inflation was absurd. We however have later and not less numistakable developments on this point. In a very recent de-Aberdeen etated, as he has repeatedly stated before, that the concessions made by the present Ministry were made in their whola extent by the Miristry of which he was a member in 1641, and insisted that no further and no other concessions could be yielded onsistently with the smallest show of reason or justice or bonor. And the Government, apeaking through the Premier, perfectly agreed with him, as the following passage from the delate will show:

Thus we see the question of the right of visit is now just as open as it ever was. It is plain and has all the while been plain to every person of disceru-ment who has considered the matter that the British ment have never thought of entertaining the idea of abandoning this right. The thing has not entered their heads. The true question says Lord erby is how the right shall be carried out in practice. The relinquishment of the right Itself has never been a question with the British Government and it never will be. The truth is, as we have frequently shown in our columne, there is an middle ground between the recognition of the right of visit, and the false and minerable assumption that the flag protects the venual, whether fraudulently assumed or not. No first-rate or even second-rate power will said no true Democrat could support the ticket, and ever entant to this para ical assumption simply because its establishment would disarm the police of the seas. We curselves would be the very last to submit to it. The right of visit is and must al-Woodstock and there fully and unequirecally en-dorsed the administration. Now will the Laquirer hal power of the slightest consequence. Not a month, not a week, probably not a day passes that our own naval officers do not freely exercise it. The boast of the Administration that It had exacted the relinquishment of this right from Great Britain was sarely among the most stupid and ridiculous preterto lt will be seen by the letter from Staofor which we publish this morning that the Hon. Joshua sions with which unscrupulous vanity ever under F. Bell o eued the canvass at that place the oth t took to sclace mean and incapable ambition. wonder that it has exploded ignominiously. Wilf the unwashed were half as eager to bet th Our Postoffice Department seems to have been dirt off their hands as they are their principles they nefully and extravagantly managed. eleves millions; the first report of Mr. Brown brought them up to about twelve millions, and the appropriations recoulty asked were for over twenty millions in the aggregate. We think it a fortunate thing that the obstinacy of Senator Toomba defeated the bill, as it may render oconomy a necessity, and compal the Department to cut off abuses and abolish reckless achemes for mail service. We seel a tasted also that there is a deficiency of from five to seven millions in the Department in the last year, and wa do not know whether provision was made for this in the last bill, or it was left over for the next Congress to supply.

Gefor letters from various parts of Kentucky speak in the most encouraging manner of the state of public feeling in reference to the acceptance of Mr. Bell and the chances of the success of the eatire Opposition ticket. There will be a thorough organization against the corrupt Democracy; every patriot can freely give bis infinence to the nominees of the 22d of February convention, and old friends, who have been temporarily divided in their political action, can now find themselves animated by a common determination to resist the monatrous abuses and aggressions of Democracy. In a short time Meesrs. Bell, Allen, and the rest of our candidates will actively commerce the canvass of the State, and it will be procecuted energetically until dates will actively commerce the canvass of the Bease, and it will be proceduted energetically until the ballot boxes in August announce a glorioue result.

Napoleon organized Italy into one consolidated Kingdom—an undertaking which doubtless formed part of his own plans of aggrandizement, but one which was, at the same time, sagarious and wise, for the Italians are thensely unitional in character and feeling, with warm sympathies for each other, and strong jesiousies of cuiside interference. But Napoleon's downfall was followed by that of bis ballow Kingdom, and the Congress of Visins particular of the everythesis of the formation of the public treasure is squardered most recklessly, there is no control over the policy of the country. CFARI attempts to compromise Democratic deferences in the Sixth Congressional District of Virginia have failed. Both Mr. Powell, member of spirit of marked personal beauty and counsiderable accomplishments. Her first mis-step took place many the last Congress, and Shelton F. Leake, an eager aspirant and prominent Democratic politician, have taken the field awasif rominated candidates. There is likely to be a corab race in some other districts also indigent circumstances. The announcement from her lover of the termination of their intimicy, combined perhaps with the property is becoming adily divided in the Old Domicion, a circumstance of which the Opposition will take due advantage.

Liking W. J. The deceased was said to be a property of the complishments. Her first mis-step took place many dyspepsia and piles. Have tried various into the was generally supposed after trust to be leading a virtuous life. The cause of her doing otherwise in the old indigent circumstances. The announcement from her lover of the termination of their intimicy, combined perhaps with the property of pennity, drove the lie a rash moment to the commission of the fatal act which has co-ed the brief drants of an unfortunate duplic extrasion patent budle.
